

Edition 71- July 2014

From the Editors

In May, Chungkyu & Eonmee Lee became our new Field Leaders. This month we asked them to share how they see the role.

- Priscilla Kok and Henrietta Cozens

News and Prayer Points

Smile Camp on July 5th and Karate Camp at end of June were each attended by around 20 adults and 20 children. Please pray that these evangelistic relationships would continue and gospel seeds grow.

John and Samantha Tan recently moved to Takatsuki (Osaka) to church plant. Pray they would meet some like-minded Christians and also have opportunities to share about Jesus with people.

The 'His Story' team (Cozens, Wilsons, Yims, Tans) have started writing and sharing personal testimony fliers, called 'My Story'. Readers can then link to more at this website: <http://www.mystory.jp.net/> Please pray this new project engages people with God.

Thank God for weather forecasts for a slightly less hot summer than last year, but still pray for the elderly who can suffer from heatstroke fatality even in their homes.

Leading Our Organisation

- Chungkyu & Eonmee Lee

1. Chungkyu, what's the job of a Field Leader?

When I think of the job of a Field Leader, a few things come to my mind. Firstly, to lead the Field to draw closer to God. I want to encourage our Field to seek God, to know God more, and to grow in Him, both individually and as a body of Christ.

Secondly, I would like to help the Field to be more effective. I would like to encourage the Field to focus, to work together and to put our goals into actions.

Thirdly, to encourage the Field to work as One. As a body of Christ, we should love and build up each other. I believe that our purpose is not only to focus on our own ministries, but it is also important to work as one body. As we work as one body, we can be more effective.

2. What are some areas that you would like to see the field improve in?

I would like to see the Field to continue to grow spiritually, to prioritise worship, prayer and seeking God.

I would also like us to have more teamwork in ministries. At the moment, many of our missionaries are meeting up for fellowship while working individually on their ministries. I would like to see our missionaries working together more.

Another area I would like to see is new & pioneering ministries being established. Instead of just managing our current ministries, I want to see the Field moving on to new areas in Japan, with risk-taking faith.

3. How can we pray for you?

Pray for us, as servants of God, to serve God focusing on His compliments. Pray for us to have clear minds and wisdom to discern the Lord's will for the Field, and to have love for our missionaries and Japanese co-workers. Finally, to be able to manage and balance our lives well, and be able to cope with stress.
